

Napoleon Forges an Empire

- Essential Question: Napoleon creates an empire, what are his lasting achievements?
 - Napoleon Grasps the Power
 - Napoleon Rules France
 - Napoleon Creates an Empire

Napoleon Grasps the Power

- Napoleon would become recognized as one of the world's greatest military geniuses and cast a long shadow over the history of modern times.
- Napoleon Bonaparte was born in 1769 on the island of Corsica and was sent to military school by his parents when he turned nine.
- When the revolution broke out, he joined the army of the new government.
- As a young officer Napoleon became a savior of the French republic when he greeted thousands of royalists attacking the National Convention with cannon fire.

Napoleon Grasps the Power

- In 1796 the Directory appointed Napoleon to lead the French army and he wins key battles to save the French Republic
 - ▣ Became hero for defending France against Austria & Sardinia forces
- Upon his return from Egypt in 1799, Napoleon, with the help of his wife Josephine, seizes political control from the Directory (coup d'état)
- Napoleon quickly set up dictatorial powers.
- Eventually Napoleon's successes on the battlefield lead to peace in Europe, and he could focus on restoring order in France.

Napoleon Rules France

- Napoleon pretended to be a constitutionally chosen leader of a free republic and in 1800 set up a plebiscite or vote of the people
- Napoleon gains power when French voters approve 4th constitution in 8 years, which gave all the real power to Napoleon as 1st counsel.
- Unlike Louis XVI, Napoleon supported many of the changes that came with the revolution, while strengthening the central government.
- Napoleon got economy back on a solid footing by establishing a national bank and efficient tax collection system
- In order to reduce government corruption he provided the government with trained officials by setting up public schools (lycees), which included children of ordinary citizens as well as children of the wealthy.

Napoleon Rules France

- Napoleon signed a concordat (agreement) with Pope Pius VII spelling out a new relationship with the church, where the government would appoint bishops but the bishops would appoint the parish priests.
- Napoleon thought his greatest achievement was the publishing of his comprehensive systems of laws known as the Napoleonic Code.
- Although the code eliminated many injustices, it took away some rights & restored slavery in French colonies.
- Napoleon gives France order and stability, and crowns himself as emperor of France, taking the crown from the Pope and placing it on his own head.

Napoleon Creates an Empire

- Napoleon was not content to simply be the master of France, he wanted to control the rest of Europe and reassert French power in the new world.
- Napoleon unsuccessfully tried to expand his empire in the Americas, and sells the Louisiana Territory to the United States for $15 million
- Napoleon abandoned his imperial ambitions in the New World and turned his attention to Europe.
- Fearful of Napoleon's ambitions, Britain persuaded Russia, Austria, and Sweden to join in a coalition against France.

Napoleon Creates an Empire

- Napoleon met this challenge with his usual boldness, and in a series of brilliant battles crushed the opposition.
- Eventually the rulers of Austria, Prussia, and Russia all signed peace treaties with France, and Napoleon built the largest European empire since the Romans.
- Although he conquers much of Europe, but his navy is defeated by the British in the Battle of Trafalgar.
- Napoleon's power made conquered people more conscious of their own national loyalty.