

Student 1

Joe Student

Mrs. Burch

Adv. English I Per. 2

23 September 2008

Irony in “The Most Dangerous Game”

(Use quotation marks around the title of a work when it referring to it in your title, but do not use quotation marks or underlining; bold, italicized, or larger font; or Word Art in your title)

Directions for MLA format :

- Set your computer for 12 point, Times New Roman font.
- Set the margins to 1” on all sides. Warning: the default setting is usually 1 ½” left and right
 - Click on “File”
 - Highlight “Page Setup”
 - Set all margins: left, right, top, bottom to 1”
 - Click on OK
- Type your last name on the right side of the header:
 - If you have Microsoft Word, click on the View tab in the tool bar.
 - Scroll down and highlight header and footer.
 - Click on the right alignment icon on your tool bar (it is to the right of the centering icon).
 - Type your last name and push the space bar once.
 - Click on the icon in the tool bar that looks like a piece of paper with # on it. It says, “insert page number.” DO NOT type in a page number.
 - Exit “Header Footer”
- Set the computer to automatically double space:
 - Click on the format tab on your tool bar.
 - Scroll down to paragraph and find where it says line spacing.
 - Click on the arrow that points down and highlight double spacing.
 - Click on OK
- Type your heading:
 - Align left
 - Type your name and hit enter once
 - Type my name and hit enter once
 - Type Adv. English I per.____ and hit enter once
 - Type the date—day, month, year without punctuation unless you abbreviate the month (optional) and hit enter once

- Type the title of your paper:
 - Align center
 - Type the title of your paper following rules for capitalization (first, last, and important words) and hit enter once
- Type your essay
 - Align left
 - Indent ½” or 5-7 spaces
 - Begin typing.
 - Do not hit enter again until you reach the end of a paragraph then hit enter only once
 - Indent and type the second paragraph
 - Continue this process to the end of your paper.

Directions for parenthetical documentation:

Concrete details in response to literature—whether quotes, paraphrases, or summaries—must be followed by parenthetical documentation that cites the source of the fact you are using.

- Quotes from the text:

“The menacing look in his eyes did not change. The revolver pointed as rigidly as if the giant were a statue” (Connell 71).

Note: punctuation goes outside of the parentheses following the parenthetical documentation.

- Dialogue quoted from the text:

“In a cultivated voice marked by a slight accent that gave it added precision and deliberateness, he said: ‘It is a very great pleasure and honor to welcome Mr. Sanger Rainsford, the celebrated hunter, to my home’” (Connell 71).

- When you have already used the author’s name in your concrete detail:

Connell describes the jungle Rainsford faces as a “tangle of trees and underbrush” and as “an unbroken front of snarled and ragged jungle” (70).