

Study Skills (Intervention) 9

Welcome to the new school year. I am looking forward to a productive year with you. My priority is to partner with you and parents to guide you to become a more independent learner and self-manager, through organization, perseverance, study skills, and self-discipline.

This class is designed to assist students who need help with organization, understanding the graduation requirements of high school and completing assignments from core classes, due to needing more clarification. This is not a class that takes the place of doing homework at home. Both myself and the Academic Tutors will assist in clarifying instructions, reviewing a math concept, etc.

Because this is a skills class, there will be no homework assigned by me. The grade for this course is solely based on regular classroom participation, attendance, self-management and punctuality.

Grading breakdown:

5 points per day (entered weekly on AERIES/ABI) are awarded for:

- 1 point for being here on time
- 1 point for working on task for the whole period
- 1 point for agenda/backpack/binder in order
- 2 points for managing cell phone usage
- Uncleared absences will result in 0 points for the day. An excused absence or cleared absence will receive credit for the day

If you have no missing assignments in core classes, they will be working on the following:

- Reviewing math concepts
- Re-reading of current lessons in core classes
- Studying for upcoming assessments
- Focused note taking
- Upcoming projects/reports
- Organization of binder/backpack

I encourage you (parents, too) to frequently look at your grades on Canvas/AERIES/ABI Portal to stay on top anything that is missing, as well as parents becoming an "Observer" in student's Canvas Courses. Directions for both can be found on the MVUSD website under "Parents"

My contact information is as follows: (951) 894-5750 ext.6606 (goes to voicemail during school hours) or acalay@murrieta.k12.ca.us

Please discuss this information with your child, and sign/return the bottom portion.

Thank you!

Angie Clay
