

Claim, Evidence, Reasoning (CER)

Name _____ Date _____

Scenario:

There are three main types of Matter; Solids, liquids, gases. Matter can be divided into particles that are too small to be seen. Another name for these particles is molecules.

Prompt:

How can you observe particles of Matter that are too small to be seen?

Claim (answers the prompt):

Evidence (explains the claim using evidence):
